When fatly in friends beare fruit, and folp by fampes face,
 When fraud flyeth far from towarne, & lewteers leane the stile,
 And eude shall rime a rightfull rare, and all men be well rinde:
 When gropers after gaine, shall carpe for comen weilly,
 And wylp worders shall outdape, to fygge and fyne by willy:
 When wylidome wallys a lot, and folp by fampes face,
 And vertic bandyng pampred vice, and gaine begins to grow,
 When Eulice iopnes to truth, and iawe looke not to mcede,
 & byres hiep not to build far bowes, nor gits greet gitors fede
 When hongre hies his head, and plenty picke the poore,
 And mnggers to the need men, shall neneer flynt their doore:
 When double darte eert, is out of credit toorne,
 And fanninge the che is falyed found, & cratt is laught to thorne
 When pride wylch pichs the pures, gapes not for garrments gar,
 & o iauis waxe no belnet waxe, not waxe, gouts beare waxe
 When riches wexes no right, not poore good put bare,
 & of conctons creeps not into ourre, not lerne, lunge lack
 When fupper lighs are leene, and far farcher be founde,
 And priate profit & leife lone, shall both be put in pounde:
 When bette no ferream dreds, and coxtrics credit kepe,
 & mnght mics not a mth mchhandie, nor lorde hal no hiepe:
 When iure lall's not long, and hure great hays both here,
 And eery wight is well content, to walle in his chate,
 When truth both tread the fices, and hiers iure in ben,
 And ker both raigme & rule the roff, & wcede out wiche men:
 When baxfull barres be byrthe that here in England woune,
 Your fite that fupm ano
