

gilofre and boile it. and whan it is iboiled: take powd^o of canel and gyng^e, and tēp it up with wyne. and do alle þise thyng togȳd. and loke þat it be rēnyns^k, and lat it not seeþ aft̄ that it is cast togyder, ā sūe it forth.

Connyng^o in clere broth. xx.
III. VI.

Take Coñyng^o and smyte hem ī gobet^o and waifsh hem and do hem in feyre waī and wyne, and seeþ hem and skym hem. and whan þey both ifode pyke hem clene, and drawe the broth thurgh a stȳn^o and do the flesch þwith ī a Possynet and styne it^l. and do þto vyne^o and powd^o of gyng^e and a grete q̄ntite and salt aft̄ the last boillyng and sūe it forth.

Payn Ragon^m. xx.
III. VII.

Take hony fug^o and clarifē it togydre. and boile it with esy fyr, and kepe it wel f^o brēnyng and whan it hath yboiled a while: take up a dropeⁿ þof wiþ þy syng^o and do it in a litel waī and loke if it hong^o togydeř. and take it fro the fyre and do þto the thrid-

^k rēnyns. Perhaps thin, from the old renne, to run. Vide Gloss.

^l styne it. Close it. V. Gloss.

^m Payn ragon. It is not at all explained in the Recipe.

ⁿ Drope. Drop.

^o hong. Hing, or hang,