

---

CITIE CONCEITES.

---

¶ The Cryers Song of Cheape-side.

Medius.

14.

4. Voc.

Yes, O yes, O yes, If any one at fifteene, hath taken vp and found a pretie, pretie thing, .ij. That hath, that hath her maiden head vnbound.

If any gallant haue with Cater-tray, play'd the wise Aker, and made all away, let him come to the Crier, let .ij. There will bee laide a thousand pound to tenne, that none, that none, .ij. (of these) will ere bee had a-

TREBLE.

4. V O C.

Yes, O yes, O yes, If any one at fifteene, hath taken vp and found a pretie, pretie thing, .ij. That hath, that hath her maiden head vnbound.

If any gallant haue with Cater-tray, play'd the wise Aker, and made all away,