

Tofteeⁿ.xx.
IIII. XIII.

Take wyne and hony and fōnd it^o togȳd and skym
it clene. and seeþ it long, do þto powdō of gyng. pep and falt, toft brede and lay the few þto. kerue pecys of gyng and flō it þwith and meffe it forth.

Gyngawdry^p.xx.
IIII. XIII.

Take the Powche^a and the Lyuō^r of haddok, cod-lyng and hake^s and of oop⁹ fiſſhe, pboile hē, take hē and dyce hem ſmall, take of the ſelf broth and wyne, a layō of brede of galyntyne with gode powdōs and falt, caſt þat fyſſhe þinne and boile it. & do þto amy-
dōn. & colō it grene.

Erbōwle^t.xx.
IIII. XV.

Take bolas and ſcald hem with wyne and drawe hem with^u a ſtȳnō do hem in a pot, clarify hony and do þto with powdō fort. and flō of Rys. Salt it & floriſh it w whyte aneys. & ſūe it forth.

^a Toffee. So called from the toasted bread.

^b fōnd it. mix it. ^p Gyngawdry. Qu.

^c Powche. Crop or ſtomach.

^d Lyuō. Liver. V. N^o 137.

^e Hake. "Aſellus alter, five Merlucius, Aldrov." So Mr. Ray.
See Pennant, III. p. 156.

^f Erbōwle. Perhaps from the Bolas, or Bullace employed.

^g with, i. e. thurgh or thorough.

Reſmolle.