

TO THE NOBLEST
OF THE COVRT, LIBE-RALLEST OF THE COVN-

TRY, and freest of the CITY.

Y^Ou may well per-ceiue by the much variety herein composed, that my desire is to giue contentment in this kinde of Musicke to the skilfull, and most iudicious of all sortes. And being little or much beholding to some of each rancke, I studie and striue to please you in your owne elements. Now if my paines proue your pleasures, you shall still keepe mee in paines to please you. And so I rest yours.
